ROYAL CHATEAU BURNED

Summer Residence of Greek King Destroyed.

The royal chateau at Tatoi, Greece, occupied as the summer residence of King Constantine, has been destroyed by fire, says a Reuter dispatch from Athens. The king, Queen Sophie and members of the royal family escaped and took refuge with Prince Nicholas at his home in Kephissia. The fire started in the forest near the chateau and spread to that building and to the adjoining barracks of the rural police which were destroyed. Several lives including those of officers, were lost in the burning of the barracks.

A wireless dispatch from Athens yesterday describes the destruction of the summer palace of King Constantine and the burning of the forest of Tatoi, in which the palace stood. The king, says the dispatch, escaped in an automobile from a dangerous position where he was directing the fire-eaters endeavoring to extinguish the fire which had started in the woods. The motor in which the king approached the burning district had been surrounded by flames and he darted on foot through the danger zone, reached another automobile and got away in safety. Many persons were caught by the flames and perished, among them several army officers. The forest, which was the largest in Greece, was entirely burned over, the total loss from the flames exceeding 10,000,000 francs.

It is suspected that the fire started from the carelessness of wandering vagabonds in throwing a cigarette stub into dry brushwood, the countryside being dried out by lack of rain and intense heat. The pavilion of Queen Mother Olga and the palace of the crown prince were destroyed and also, it is feared, the tomb of King George. King Constantine shed tears at the sight of the devastation worked by the flames.

Mr. Hughes's Successor.

When the nomination of Judge John H. Clarke of Ohio to be Associate Justice of the Supreme Court is confirmed, one-third of the members of that court will sit by the appointment of President Wilson. He first named Attorney General McKeen in two years ago, then Justice Brandeis, and now Judge Clarke of Cleveland, whom he appointed to the Federal Bench in the Sixth District in 1914. Although Associate Justice Hughes was appointed from New York, Mr. Wilson now passes by that state. No son of New York will sit upon that Bench where the state was for so many years represented by Brandeis, Peckham, and Hughes.

Public interest in the nomination of Judge Clarke will be attracted first of all to his political and professional record. He is described as a "progressive Democrat." Some years ago he was counsel for a railroad corporation, his practice was large, his standing at the bar very high. Retiring from corporation practice, he is said to have displayed "radical tendencies." He was associated with Tom Johnson in urging acceptance and application of the very progressive ideas of that picturesque agitator for reforms in the relation of public service corporations to the people. With Johnson he was an
